Our podcast: Alan Rusbridger discusses his new book and how to rebuild trust in news | Reuters Institute for the Study of Journalism

By Rasmus Nielsen & Alan Rusbridger
December 8, 2020

> Technological transformation and social polarisation have contributed to an erosion of trust in journalism prompting many to ask what the news industry can do to regain the confidence of its audience. In this episode of our Future of Journalism podcast, Alan Rusbridger discusses these fundamental questions and whether the idea of a journalist has changed.
>
> Our host is Rasmus Nielsen, Director of the Reuters Institute. Our guest is Alan Rusbridger, former Editor-in-Chief of The Guardian and Principal of Lady Margaret Hall, University of Oxford. Alan has recently authored News and How to Use it.
