> The girl with the loudspeaker doesn't look much older than 15.
>
> "I've spoken at these demonstrations [before]," she says, before launching into a tirade against the German government's lockdown restrictions and vaccination programme.
>
> "They say, 'We have to lock them up! Have them vaccinated! Only then will they be allowed out again!'" she bellows, adding that she was escorted from her school by police for refusing to comply with restrictions.
>
> The girl was speaking at one of a series of demonstrations organised by Querdenken, Germany's anti-lockdown movement.
