

2018 Games for Change Festival: June 28 – 30 | Games for Change

By Games for Change

June 22, 2018

Panels and presentations include explorations of what impact gaming can have on investigative journalism, and how games might foster empathy, digital literacy, and inclusivity.

From June 28 – 30, 2018, Games for Change will celebrate the 15th annual G4C Festival. Join us as we highlight the groundbreaking work that has been done in the G4C community in the last decade and a half, and discover what the games for good sector will look like in the next 15 years. With over 1000+ attendees, the G4C Festival attracts professionals from academia, government, media & technology, nonprofits, health, social & civic organizations, and the games industry.

Source: 2018 Games for Change Festival: June 28 – 30 | Games for Change