

Brazil's Far-Right Disinformation Pushers Find a Safe Space on Telegram | The New York Times

By Ernesto Londoño, Flávia Milhorance and Jack Nicas

November 9, 2021

RIO DE JANEIRO — Shortly after President Donald J. Trump was banned from Twitter early this year, Brazil's like-minded leader made a plea to his millions of followers on the site.

“Sign up for my official channel on Telegram,” President Jair Bolsonaro requested.

Since then, Telegram, an encrypted messaging and social media platform run by an elusive Russian exile, has racked up tens of millions of new users in Brazil.

[...]

Source: Brazil's Far-Right Disinformation Pushers Find a Safe Space on Telegram | The New York Times