

Call for Papers: MEDIATE Workshop | ICWSM 2020

By MEDIATE 2020

March 20, 2020

Misinformation is regarded as a problem that has reached new heights in the current information sphere, partly due to the ease, the diversity of mediums, the reach, and the consequences of information dissemination.

We particularly encourage submissions tackling the current information flood surrounding COVID-19. We believe that this “infodemic” requires us to step-up all efforts to fight online misinformation, and research at this workshop can contribute to these efforts.
