

Democrats are calling on LinkedIn to crack down on misinformation, too | The Washington Post

By Cristiano Lima

April 1, 2022

An unexpected tech platform is facing new pressure from Democrats to step up its policies against misinformation: LinkedIn.

The Microsoft-owned networking site is the latest major platform added to the Democratic National Committee's misinformation scorecard, which for years has graded platforms based on their rules against false or misleading content.

[...]

Source: Democrats are calling on LinkedIn to crack down on misinformation, too | The Washington Post