

#ISOJ Journal Launches Call for Papers and the Topic for Next Issue: 'Digital Media and Democracy in the Americas' | Knight Center for Journalism in the Americas

By Knight Center for Journalism in the Americas

June 4, 2018

For the second year, the International Symposium on Online Journalism (ISOJ), organized by the Knight Center for Journalism in the Americas, is making a call for papers for a special edition of its official academic journal #ISOJ that will be entirely dedicated to one topic. This time, the theme will be “Digital Media and Democracy in the Americas.”

Two distinguished scholars, one from the United States and the other from Latin America, will be the guest editors for the 2019 edition of #ISOJ: Dr. Pablo Boczkowski, professor at Northwestern University (U.S.) and co-director of the Center for the Study of Media and Society in Argentina (MESO), and Dr. Eugenia Mitchelstein, assistant professor at Universidad de San Andrés (Argentina) and also co-director of MESO.

The papers selected by an international blind review process will be presented at the 20th ISOJ conference on April 12-13, 2019 at the University of Texas at Austin and published in Volume 9 of the #ISOJ journal.

Source: #ISOJ journal launches call for papers and the topic for next issue: 'Digital Media and Democracy in the Americas' | Knight Center for Journalism in the Americas