

Job Opportunity: Current Openings | National Democratic Institution

By National Democratic Institution

February 4, 2022

Resident Senior Program Manager: Disinformation - Eurasia

The National Democratic Institute of International Affairs (NDI) seeks a Resident Senior Program Manager to implement and oversee the Institute's counter disinformation programming in several countries in Eurasia. The successful applicant will advise NDI staff and partners in civil society, media and political parties on best practices to conduct public opinion research surveys, analyze data and research findings, and use research to design and implement programming to counter disinformation. Work may be conducted remotely initially, but when public health conditions allow, the successful applicant will be based in the Eurasia region.

[...]

Source: Current Openings | National Democratic Institution