

Job Opportunity: Postdoctoral Fellow | Social Science Research Council

By SSRC

August 24, 2022

The Social Science Research Council (SSRC) seeks to hire a postdoctoral fellow to advance the aims of the Mellon-funded Data Fluencies Project. The position offers a rich experience in both non-profit administration and scholarly research. The successful candidate will work closely with a national network of preeminent and emergent scholars.

In-depth experience with project and grant administration, event coordination, and policy-driven and public-facing research will situate the Postdoctoral Fellow for future opportunities in higher education, nonprofit, and government contexts.
