Job Opportunity: Research Data Scientist | NYU Center for Social Media & Politics

By NYU | CSMaP

July 29, 2022

> We are seeking a Researcher – Data Scientist to join our growing team. You will leverage our large scale data collections — ranging from major platforms to fringe sites to individual browser data — to produce rigorous analyses on the relationship between politics and the online media environment.
>
> In general, CSMaP's primary focus is peer-reviewed academic publications. The goal of this position will be distinct but complementary: the production of public-facing analyses for reports and white papers, leading media outlets, and visualizations.
