

The Spread of Disinformation and How We Respond | NAACP

By NAACP

October 7, 2020

The spread of disinformation has been a perpetual attempt to tarnish and erode our democracy, and we must do everything in our power to fight it. The allowance of foreign interference in our elections has shown that results of this election not only impact us as Americans, but many countries abroad. We've seen the ongoing attempts to spread inaccurate data within the African-American community on a number of fronts. From falsified information on the date of the election, to misinformation on the steps needed to verify your registration, there has been no stone unturned in attempts to ensure that the vote of the African American community is discredited or that we don't take our full authority in this moment by voting. The NAACP has continued to fight at all cost to identify disinformation and to thwart it with valid facts so that our community can make informed and intelligent decisions when casting our ballot in this upcoming election.

[...]

Source: NAACP | The Spread of Disinformation and How We Respond