

Opinion: Help us fight election misinformation in Tennessee and other states too | Nashville Tennessean

By Tre Hargett and Jay Ashcroft

February 21, 2020

As we gear up for the 2020 elections, voters in both the Volunteer State and the Show-Me State will be flooded with election-related information.

This includes anything related to voter registration, polling locations and times, absentee ballots and other election questions. That's why Secretary Ashcroft, and I are joining forces along with Secretaries of State from across the country to educate voters that election officials are trusted sources for election information.
