

Opportunity: Apply for News Trust Fellowship | Reuters Institute for the Study of Journalism

By Reuters Institute

September 8, 2020

In 2021, we will grant two fellowships to mid-career journalists who have ideas for ways to enhance trust in the news media.

We're inviting journalists from the U.S., UK, India or Brazil who have at least five years' experience in the newsroom to apply before September 28th. Your idea might be something new you wish to implement in your newsroom when you return, or it may be a new initiative you'd like to launch.

The successful applicants will join the Journalism Fellowship at the Reuters Institute for the Study of Journalism at Oxford University for six months, starting in January 2021.
