

Report: Facebook's misinformation checks on Georgia runoff are failing | Axios

By Ashley Gold

December 7, 2020

Misinformation is proliferating on Facebook about January's Senate election in Georgia despite the company's stated plans to keep conspiracy theories and falsehoods around the runoffs at bay, a new report from nonprofit human-rights group Avaaz finds.

Why it matters: The Georgia runoffs are a huge test for the fact-checking and labeling abilities of Facebook and other social media companies, as President Trump and his allies continue to spread false theories about voter fraud.

[...]

Source: Report: Facebook's misinformation checks on Georgia runoff are failing | Axios