Carinés Moncada gained notoriety last year after she made the racist, on-air claim that Black Lives Matter is a Satanic cult out to “destroy U.S. cities.” The day after the Jan. 6 Capitol riot in Washington D.C., Moncada — who co-hosts the popular Spanish-language radio talk show “Cada Tarde” (Each Afternoon) on Miami AM station Actualidad — took aim at BLM again.

“We’ve confirmed that an African-American activist from Black Lives Matter who on several occasions has called for the violent removal of [then] President Trump from the White House has been identified as one of the people who entered the Congress building,” Moncada falsely asserted.

Moncada’s “Cada Tarde” co-host Augustin Acosta then just as falsely claimed that “facial recognition technology” proved that BLM and Antifa militants had infiltrated the Capitol insurrection mob and stoked the violence that left five people dead.
