

Rudy Giuliani pushes misinformation about coronavirus contact tracing on Fox News | Vox

By Aaron Rupar

April 24, 2020

Thursday's edition of Fox News's Ingraham Angle featured egregious coronavirus misinformation, courtesy of President Donald Trump's personal attorney.

Rudy Giuliani and Laura Ingraham teamed up to mock the idea of contact tracing — a surveillance tool experts broadly agree is key to getting the US coronavirus outbreak under control. (Contact tracing involves the strategic deployment of testing so anybody who comes in contact with a coronavirus can be tested and, if necessary, quarantined, hopefully nipping outbreaks in the bud.) Giuliani, however, thought it useful to compare Covid-19 to other potentially deadly, but non-infectious, maladies like cancer or heart disease.

[...]

Source: Rudy Giuliani pushes misinformation about coronavirus contact tracing on Fox News | Vox