

Postdoctoral Research Associate (Hewlett)| UNC-Chapel Hill Employment Opportunities

By CITAP

April 21, 2020

CITAP is seeking a postdoctoral researcher to start in August 2020. The position will run for up to three years with renewal contingent upon performance. The successful applicant will join a vibrant research community anchored by CITAP's four principal researchers—Deen Freelon (Hussman School of Journalism and Media), Daniel Kreiss (Hussman), Alice Marwick (Dept. of Communication), and Zeynep Tufekci (School of Information and Library Sciences)—as well as a fifth principal who will join us in August 2020. CITAP affiliates will meet regularly for research updates and internal presentations, as well as travel to present their work at domestic and international conferences. This position features a complete benefits package including health, vision, and dental insurance.
